Clients

We help executives and managers at Fortune 500 companies become self-service business intelligence analysts who can quickly answer their most pressing business questions.

Culture & Diversity

A dispersed team, we are united by our love of sharing knowledge. Acceptance and inclusion have always been central to who we are as people—and as an organization. Strong supporters of civil liberties, we welcome people from all genders, orientations, religions, cultures, ethnicities, and life experiences.

We actively promote acceptance and truth in all aspects of our business, and we work to support these values in our community. We show our commitment by participating in our communities through event sponsorship and volunteering our time at organizations doing the hard work needed to improve lives.

Partners

We work with best-in-class technology partners to help execs and managers at Fortune 500 companies make timely, informed business decisions based on holistic data analysis.
