

Nick Amabile

CEO & Principal Consultant

Nick works directly with executives, founders, board members, and investors to provide, strategic direction, and decision support.

Experience

Nick has held senior roles in analytics and business intelligence at four eCommerce companies including at Jet.com during hyper-growth and at Etsy through their IPO. Before that, he worked at NERA Economic Consulting where he assisted in econometric analysis and statistical programming in anti-trust litigation for Fortune 500 companies. He has over 10 years of experience designing and implementing analytical and technical solutions for businesses as an analyst, engineer, and consultant.

Specialties

- Data Analysis
- Web Analytics
- Product Management
- Financial Modeling
- Financial Statement Analysis
- Operational Forecasting
- Dashboard/Report Creation
- Mergers and Acquisitions (M&A)
- Litigation, Legal, and Document Review

Expertise

Nick's technical abilities, product management experience, and understanding of eCommerce and technology companies allow him to create value quickly and consistently in many areas of online businesses.

